

FORMULA 17: How can people find out about X?

How can people find out about what's going on in the world?

How do people obtain information about local events in your city?

How can you stay up-to-date with the national news where you live?

- 1. Say how people usually obtain information.
- 2. Explain what you do to stay up-to-date.
- 3. Show how reliable these sources are.

How can you find out about national and international news where you come from?

Nowadays it's easier than ever to stay on top of current events. There are many different sources for news. There are newsstands in every major city selling all kinds of magazines and newspapers, which often run interesting features on everything from fashion to international affairs. But generally I surf the Internet to stay up-to-date with what's going on in the blogs. But generally I surf the Internet to stay up-to-date with what's going on in the blogs. Though some bloggers aren't very objective, their opinions are interesting read, and usually offer a different viewpoint to what I read in the mass media.