- 1. Some people say that one's university years are the happiest time in life. Would you agree?

Yes, I couldn't agree more! I think that university life is probably the best stage in life because they are free from the constraints of home-life with their parents and they get the opportunity to discover the world for themselves, much more independently than ever before. They can meet new people, study a variety of interesting subjects and learn to look after ourselves. So, I completely agree that this is by far the happiest time in our lives.

- 2. But I've heard that many students find university life incredibly stressful and sometimes quite a tough experience?

Well, it depends on that person, but I don't think you're right in saying many students find it difficult. I am sure that some do, but the vast majority of people I know share my opinion that it's unique and truly fantastic time in life.
